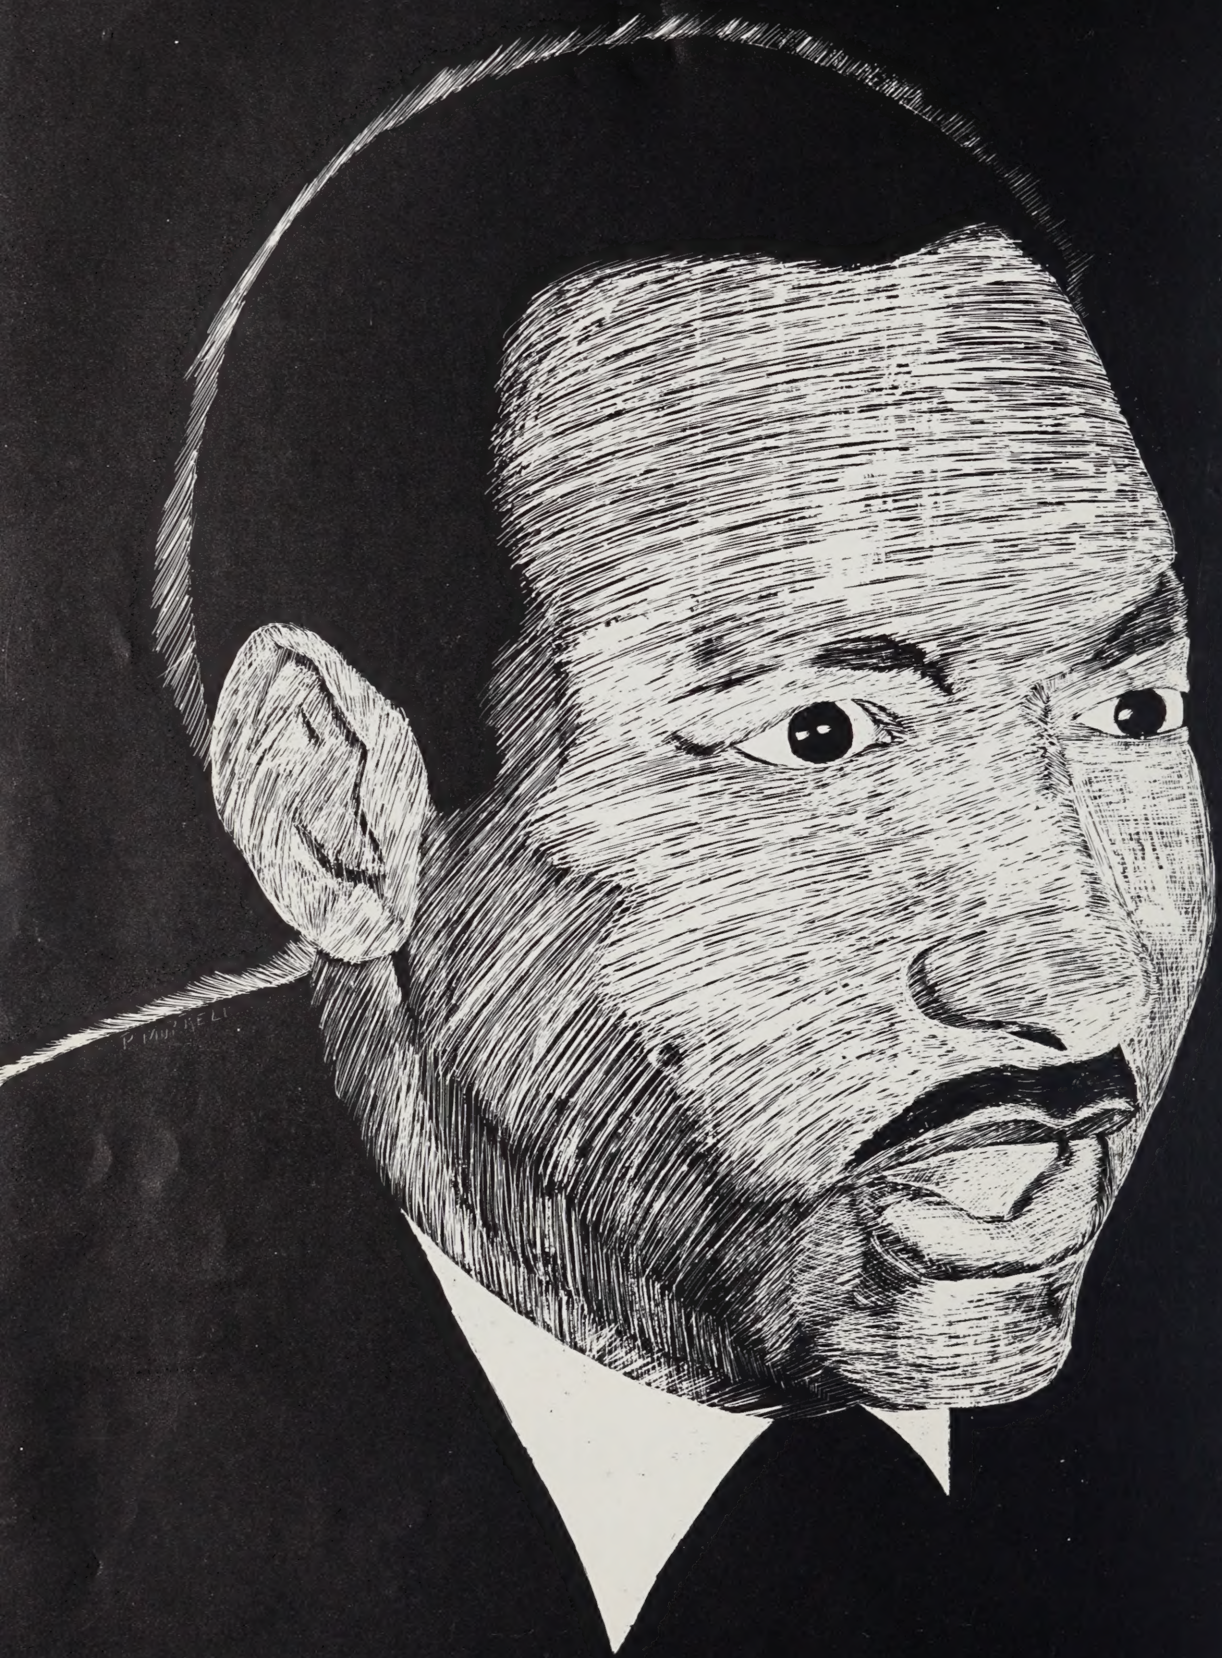
CAMBRIDGE HIGH AND LATIN SCHOOL

PROLOGUE

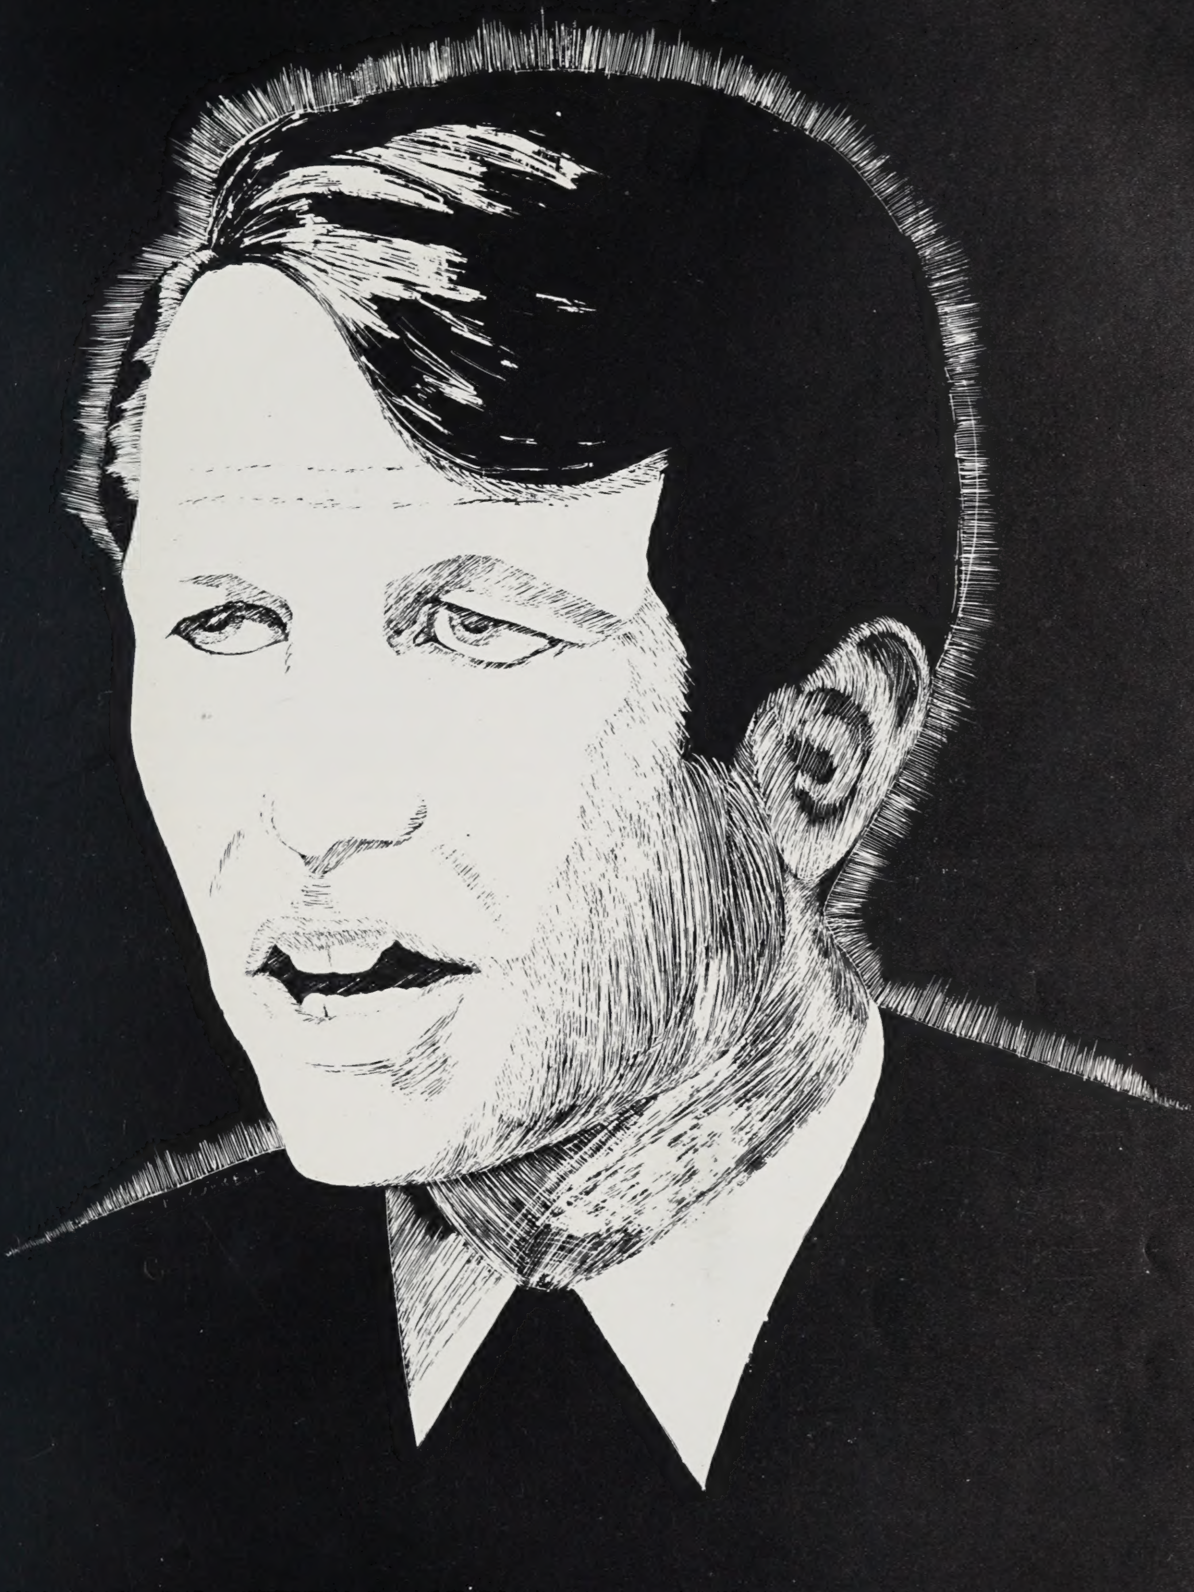
Autumn witnesses the Freshmen's apprehension, winter bolsters the Sophomores' perseverance, spring renews the Juniors' confidence and summer celebrates the Seniors' victory — GRADUATION!

We shall possess many memories of our high school days as we continue to pursue our careers. Let us first go back and recall those days at Cambridge High and Latin School.

IN MEMORIAM



"I HAVE A DREAM"—MARTIN LUTHER KING JR.



"SOME MEN SEE THINGS THE WAY THEY ARE AND SAY WHY.

I DREAM THINGS THAT NEVER WERE AND SAY WHY NOT."

—ROBERT FRANCIS KENNEDY

DEDICATION

Mr. Thomas Romeo — great teacher,
uncanny wit,
pupils' friend

Never again shall we at Cambridge High and Latin be greeted with his ready smile and the inimitable anecdotes which are already a part of his legend. It is certain that hundreds of Latin students will always remember with gratitude and affection the orderliness of his mind which, brightened by humor, made learning his subject a memorable experience. His extraordinary knowledge and vast conversational power, whether they were concerned with physics, literature, or athletics captivated all of us. Even at serious times there was that gleam of humor that helped him over the rough places and through the dark hours. He loved fun and enjoyed teaching, and the Senior Class of 1969 deems it an honor to dedicate our yearbook to this beloved gentleman.

A Miracle

Inside the earth, a miracle, a minute seed that grew
Until it burst above the ground to taste its life so new.

A tiny, living, growing speck amidst the forest high,
Nourished by the earth, it drank sweet raindrops from the sky.

Tall in stature, straight and strong, ever heavenward it pressed,
Its arm outstretched to kiss the sky; in brilliant green was dressed.

Its foot pressed firmly on the earth, it watched the years go by,
Neither wind, nor earth quake fierce, nor storm could make it die.

Long enduring, clam and brave, such beauty there to see,
A child of nature, a wondrous sight, the pride of earth, a tree.

Shall we, too, grow so tall and straight, accept what life may bring?
Such miracles are slow to form, yet ever happening.

CLASS HISTORY

FRESHMAN YEAR 1965-66

On September 7, 1965, 800 nervous freshmen students creeped into the hallowed halls of C.H.L.S. to be welcomed by the equally new and apprehensive headmaster Raymond D'Arcy. After several seemingly endless weeks of intensive orientation and mass confusion, we began to wallow into the social as well as the academic life of the school. October passed with talk of the G.A.A. Initiation, Record Hop, and the Dramatic Club presentation of Thurber Carnival. The riotous football rally of November 24 and Latin's 36-26 victory over "the school across the street" on Thanksgiving Day followed by the first annual victory dance sponsored by the Varsity Club, overshadows memories of all other November "happenings". Time flew, and shortly after Christmas vacation, the ever-active Dramatic Club presented the musical comedy "Carnival", starring several notorious Freshmen, and went on to host the annual New England Drama Festival. In February the Cantabs were again victorious over Rindge by winning in basketball 78-68 while the freshman team scored against the Rindge freshmen. With the advent of spring, thoughts turned to only one thing — summer. On June 2, 800 not so nervous, no-longer freshman students flowed from the now exhausted halls of C.H.L.S.

SOPHOMORE YEAR 1966-67

Our sophomore year was welcomed with honor as, for six weeks during September and October, Latin acted as host to the Repertory of Classical Drama who presented three of Shakespeare's finest plays. We could share a little more of the pride in the Cantabs' "come from behind" victory on Thanksgiving because on the varsity football squad were sophomores Rich Khourie, Brian Hayes, Steve Gallop, and Mike Lund. Other team victories were also aided by various sophomore stars such as Ralph Gifford, Doug Harrison, Bob Collazzo, and Bob "Achilles" Tegan in Track, Ron Marfione and Norm Reid in Hockey, and golfers John Remeika, Kevin Crane, Rich Brennick, and Jim Mavrikos. The annual Spring Concert was, as always, a great success and brought our memorable sophomore year to a close.

CLASS HISTORY

JUNIOR YEAR 1967-68

Our junior year was touched with joy, victory, awakening, and at the same time, much sadness. Fall season was much enlivened by a school-wide "Cafeteria sit-in" as a protest against poor guidance conditions. After improvement, much of the excitement was replaced with rising apprehension of the Thanksgiving Day football game in which our Cantabs were defeated by mud, rain, and cold weather, aided slightly by Rindge's football team. This year will undoubtedly be remembered as "the year of the Tech". With the help of several juniors, C.H.L.S. qualified for the Tech Tourney in basketball and ALMOST won the Massachusetts title. Well . . . then there came spring and the K.B. semi-formal which was made successful by the 35 new junior members. It will be hard to forget the ever-famous Key Club convention in Hartford. Judging from the tales, that was some convention. Our junior year was also tinged with sadness as, during that year, we were shaken by the assasinations of Martin Luther King, Jr., and Senator Robert Kennedy. Even the annual Spring Concert was slightly nostalgic as it served as a memorium to the former headmaster John J. Sheehan.

CLASS HISTORY

SENIOR YEAR 1968-69

Tension, apprehension, and hard work — these seem to be characteristics of any senior year. Additional strain was brought about by the death of Miss Katherine Cornell, guidance counselor to many seniors. But somehow, seemingly miraculously, fun and excitement overshadowed the evils. It all started with School and Commerce Day. If you were fortunate enough to board the right bus, you probably found the day very enjoyable. It was a hard fight but the band and the cheerleaders finally received new uniforms to dress up the field Thanksgiving Day when the Cantabs, led by senior super-stars, defeated Rindge by the resounding score of 0-0. The Hong Kong Flu epidemic dampened some of the festive holiday activities but it failed to stop the many vacation week happenings. Upon returning from Christmas vacation, we were greatly saddened by learning of the death of one of the all time great teachers — Mr. Thomas Romeo. In January, the newly formed Afro-American Club, supported by several other club representatives, staged a peaceful sit-in outside Mr. D'Arcy's office to protest a yearbook picture decision. Also, in January, the basketball team, led by captain Kevin Crane and Arnie Dobson, squeezed by Rindge in overtime by a score of 70-69. The victory of this game was doubled in Feburary when the Cantabs again defeated Rindge by the same score. The boys' swim team also brought victory to C.H.L.S. by capturing the Eastern Massachusetts title after completing an undefeated season. The team was led by seniors Glenn McKenzie, Warren Waugh, Max Zbinden, Fran O'Brien, Ray O'Leary, and Randy Dunn. Memories of snowball fights, the common, ice statues on the river, and sleeping late in the morning are likely to remind many of February '69. It was in that month that, due to three record breaking snowstorms and the regularly scheduled week vacation, Cambridge schools were opened for a grand total of 7 days! The snow failed to stop; however, 75 couples paraded into the Cambridge Boat Club for the K.B. semi-formal, which was described by most as "the most successful yet". As early as March we are concerned with thoughts of the prom, graduation, and THE FUTURE, which will, undoubtedly, be filled with fond memories of "good ol' C.H.L.S."

CHLS CLASS OF 69 HOLDS 25th REUNION

The 25th Annual Reunion was held May 9, 1994 at the Hotel Breen de Francis for the class of 1969. There were over one thousand people who attended this reunion. Among these people were: Brenda Oakley, nurse to the President; Debbie Mazzola, millionairess; Pat Marcin, secretary to the President of Harvard; Barbara Johnson, founder and owner to the new Data Processing School; Ginny Sabbag, designer of the First Lady's clothes; Don Lane, star player for the Boston Celtics; Gary Koocher, owner of the Boston Celtics; Shirley McElroy, columnist for the Cambridge Review; Mary Leman, nurse to the Mayor of Cambridge; Lana Lee, writer of two Broadway plays; Alan Morrison, winner of the Nobel Prize in Chemistry; Arnie Dobson, winner of the Peace Prize, Paul Wolf, General of the Navy and holder of the Medal of Honor; Patty Brazil, governess to Congressman Dan Burke's children; Sharon Gallo, teacher of Spanish at C.H.L.S.; Michael McCarthy, broadcaster for the Boston Red Sox; Linda Thomas, author of Thomas Better Cooking; Maria Franko, famous author; and T.V. star Edward White.

Entertainment was supplied by Paul Chang's solo on the violin. A special treat was in store for all – Melvin Downes displayed his world famous collection of peace symbols.

Everyone was pleased to see the number of people who came from far distances such as: Maggie Carter, who came from Paris; Maureen Mahoney, who came from Washington; Sandi MacAskill, who came from London; and Janice Newman, who came from Texas.

The reunion was one of great success. A 50th reunion has already started to be planned.

REUNION PREPARATION

(Cross country USA) In preparation for our 25th reunion, we, the officers of the 1969 CHLS Alumni Association decided to take a cross country tour to meet and photograph some of our former classmates who have strayed from the Greater Boston area. (cont. pg. 2 col. 1)

(cont. from pg. 1)

Our first stop was the grand old city of New York, where we checked into one of a chain of beautiful new hotels owned by the fast rising young businessman, Ed Sears. The first thing scheduled on our day's itinerary was a bus trip around the city. Upon asking the advice of our hotel manager, Joe Marcin, we were directed to the Walsh Travel Agency which, to our surprise, was owned by our own John Walsh. Piling into a bus driven by Elaine Maron, who explained that she had just taken a part-time job while her fellow Rockettes were on strike, we started on our way. We couldn't help noticing the signs all over New York advertising "The Post Graduate", the longest running play on Broadway based on the life of a prominent socialite, Maureen Dullea and starring 3 time Oscar winner, Bonnie Concannon. Riding down Park Avenue, we caught a glimpse of Twila Bombard and Ramona DiNatale taking their pet poodles for a stroll. Rounding the corner onto Madison Avenue, we spotted Paul Munafo, Dennis Nugent, and Dan Chipchase looking very suave with their briefcases in one hand and their Donald Duck lunch boxes in the other. On our way back to the hotel, we spotted Johanna Ficaro trying to sell some poor unsuspecting tourist the Brooklyn Bridge. Concluding our day in New York, we visited Carnegie Hall where Darlene Wicks, accompanied by Mayetta Nichols and Adrienne Scouza, the Psychedelic Strings, was featured.

The next morning, we rose and hurried to the airport for our flight to Washington, but due to a plane delay, we were forced to wait, so we dropped into Angelo Logiudice's Airport Pizza Parlor. We finally boarded our plane and when it was announced that our pilot was Bob Collazzo, with Richard Massey as co-pilot, we made sure our seat belts were tight. Upon arriving in Washington, D.C., we went immediately to the White House where we had an appointment with President Nick Mitropoulos; Vice President Joan Buckley; and some of the prominent cabinet members, Glenn Stevens, Secretary of State; Roy Nagy, Secretary of the Treasury; Robert Bergeron, Secretary of the Interior; and Sam Weems, Secretary of Fun and Games. Later, on our tour of Washington, we met Bob Clark who was trying to set a world record for running up the stairs of the Washington Monument.

Next, we made a quick trip through Florida. We stopped at Cypress Gardens where we watched the famous water skiing show put on by Richard Brown, Diane Konjoian, Marie Burns, and Linda Ohanesian. Further down the coast, we were just in time to wish Max Zbinden good luck as he prepared for his historic swim across the Gulf of Mexico.

Going across the Southern States, we made a brief stop in Texas where we visited the Manned Space Center, where astronauts Richard Yuse and Bob McDade were preparing to set off for Venus. We discussed farming with rancher Bernie Oates who had just completed his lifelong project—breeding a chicken with 6 drumsticks! As we traveled across the desert, we met Bill Callanan, who was trying to sell his Navajo-weaved rugs to the tourists, and when we reached the middle of Death Valley, we came upon Kevin O'Brien and Paul

Antonoupoulos in training for the Olympic Tiddlywink Team, coached by Marie Killackey.

In Los Angeles, we visited Universal Studios where Fernando Sousa and Corrine Volney were making a new movie produced by Pat Corcoran. We walked through the executive offices and spotted Steve Cadman, who was writing jokes for T.V. When we finished there, we visited Canfieldland, formerly known as Disneyland, but changed since Paul Canfield has been acclaimed as "The New Mickey Mouse." That night, we stopped in at John O'Connor's club on the Sunset Strip and were entertained by Bobby Savilonis, the world's only 43 year old rock n' roll singer. Before we left the next day, we visited the beach where John Sparks' ferry to Catalina Island was docked, and said "Hello" to Glen McKenzie, who was preparing to surf to Hawaii to catch the premiere of the Honolulu Symphony, featuring Juan Everteze.

Finally, we headed back toward home, with Chicago as our only stop on the way. We talked with Mayor Brian Galvin, who has been having trouble with student rioters led by Professors Joe Riley and Frank Unitowski, and attended a formal dinner given in honor of Doctors Jean Reynolds, and Norma DiAndrea, who had just performed an historic toenail transplant on David Kalenderian. We then boarded a plane, only to find Maureen MacAleavey as head stewardess.

And so we went back to Cambridge with a carton of films and many memories of the successes of our old friends from C. H. L. S.

DESIGNER RETURNS TO UNITED STATES

Having recently completed a highly successful tour of Europe, the noted designer of women's fashions, Marci (alias Snooky) Davis held a gala showing of her new spring and summer fashions at her Brattle Street estate. Entertainment was provided by Martha herself; it is a well-known fact that she started her career as a concert pianist.

Appearing for the first time among Marci's retinue of models was Boston's newest addition to the fashion scene, Yvonne, the former Yvonne Wilds of CHLS. Her splendid line of clothes were modeled by her three favorite models, Lorna Melanson, Melinda 'Harv' Bennet, and Greta Morrison. Several noteworthy people appeared in the gathering; the three women recently voted "America's Best-Dressed", the former Janice Sette, Kathy Gratovich, and Denise Stacey were present. Each traveled a considerable distance to attend the premiere; each is married, and they all live in Miami.

Also in attendance at the festivities was the president of the nationwide chain of stores known as "McCree and Conrad's", Kevin McCree. Obviously he was trying to learn well in advance of his competitors the upcoming styles; his partner, Bart Conrad had a previous engagement and could not make the showing.

Actress Charlene Greene made an appearance also. Although she is a well-known, versatile actress, she is perhaps most famous for her leading role in playwright Anne Connerty's smash Broadway hit, "Three Cheers for Marie."

The premiere was, needless to say, a complete success.

POTPOURRI

Well, dear readers, it seems to be that time again, reunion time. Last week CHLS held a post-reunion party at Brigham's in Harvard Square; quite a few interesting items were turned up. It seems that K. Crane was obliged to miss the gathering; things at his Spanish villa haven't been running as they should be. To complicate matters, he was scheduled to play in the National Open Golf Tournament in Munich the day before the reunion. It's fairly obvious that he didn't need the prize money from this tournament, but his dedication urged him onward.

Kathleen Horgan was also absent, and there was a lot of speculation as to the reason why. The general consensus was that the recent national scandal that erupted over her magazine Osul had not quite died down, and she thought it best to remain incognito for the time being.

Another person noticeably absent from the reunion was our friend Bob Tegan. Well, girls, he finally did it. He was honeymooning in beautiful Lithuania with his new bride, probably the richest woman in the world. He always seemed to prefer older women, but really, Bob, 85 years old? (This was such a big occasion that he even closed his barber shop.)

The biggest surprise of the evening was seeing J. Leo McCarthy back in uniform. After the way he handled the fantastic O'Connell case, everyone thought he was through with the police force forever, and vice versa.

Everyone felt rather sorry for Jim Gravelese; he's not long for his job, and everyone knows it. After all, how can one expect to remain Registrar of Motor Vehicles after 17 accidents?

Another person for whom everyone felt pity was Mary Morin; it seems that no sooner was she made a trustee of the County Bank and Trust Company than it was robbed of over $125,000,000. Whether it was her fault or not is not certain, but . . . that's the way it goes, Mary.

STOCK REPORT

This week the New York Stock Exchange fluctuated greatly. The end of the week saw losses and gains for several large companies. The Publicover-Vitiello Industrial Averages were up 3 points. The Kenny Mechanics were up two whole points, while Fred Flett Motors had a loss of 1½ points. Armstead Airways was actively traded while Susan's Trucking Company was almost oblivious. Harrison Plastics was back in action with a net gain of ¼ of a point. The biggest deal of the day was the purchase of McDonald Engineering by Norris Building Supplies Inc. This merger made the established Norris Building Supplies a very influential company with the state department.

FOOTBALL TEAM

The Team's 1968 record of 3 wins, 4 losses, and 2 ties consisted of rewarding wins, hard fought losses and frustrating ties.

The most rewarding win was the Team's (14-8) win over Newton South, a team whom we had never previously defeated. Our other wins came by way of victory over Boston Trade (24-0), and Boston English (20-18).

Our season came to a climax with a frustrating tie with archrival Rindge Tech (0-0). Although we felt we outplayed Rindge, we never put the ball across the goal line. Our other tie came midway in the season against Belmont. Our losses were at the hands of Winchester (26-6), Stoneham (14-8), Boston Tech (12-2), Lexington (22-12).

The Cantab Team of "68" was led by Captain Mike Lund and Co-Captains Brian Hayes and Steve Gallup. Other Seniors who contributed greatly were Alfred Steverson, Bob Tegan, Ray McCann, John Ferrari, Bart Conrad, David Colston, Chuck Colston, Al Pierce, Nick Metropoulous, Bud Costa, Fran O'Brien, John Remeika, and Rich Khourie.

The Senior Class wishes the best of luck to Captain-elect John Cavallaro in the 1969 season.

BASKETBALL TEAM

The 1969 C.H.L.S. Basketball Team had a winning record of 11-9. Ineligibility was the key factor that kept the team from making the Tech Tourney. The boys who were with the team the entire season gave 100%. First year Coach John Balfe did a fine job with the players and he considered the season a great success considering the problems they had to confront. The high points of the season were the two Rindge games. In both games Latin beat their arch-rival by the identical score of 70-69, one in overtime. This was quite an accomplishment considering Rindge was a team which went to the Tech Tourney advancing to the finals.

Seniors who contributed greatly to the success of the team were Capt. Kevin Crane, Arnold Dobson, Edward Sears, Roy Nagy, and John Ferrari. Also, a note of thanks should be extended to Gary Koocher, a boy who managed the team faithfully for three years.

THE HOCKEY TEAM

This year's hockey team had a fair season in league competition. The inability to score goals seemed to be the teams' chief weakness. This weakness was the chief reason for its record. The bright point of the season was the play of junior goalie, Bill Kelly. The seniors on the team were led by Captain Brian Hayes, other seniors were Ron Marfione, Norman Ried, Michael Lange, Steve Gallup and Frank Galligan. The team managers were Joseph Fiely and "Rat Skull" Lund. We wish the 1969-70 hockey team best of luck.

SWIMMING TEAM

In 1966 with the advent of the sophomore line of Warren Waugh, Glenn McKenzie, and Randy Dunn, the C.H.L.S. swimming team came to life. The 66-67 season won 12 and lost only 1 to Boston English. The rest is history and all wins. In two years the swimming team is 30 wins and no losses. Warren Waugh the butterfly man of the team was undefeated his junior and senior year. He also placed first in the 100 yard butterfly in the league meet. Glenn McKenzie, the work horse of the team, swam the butterfly leg of the medaly relay that captured first in the state meet and the New England regional meet. Max Zbinden covered the individual medaly for us this year and swam the backstroke leg of the medaly relay. Randy Dunn won the 50 yard freestyle in the State meet and anchored the gold winning medaly relay in the New England regional meet.

TRACK TEAM

The Cambridge Latin Track team underwent a disappointing season in the Metropolitan League. Latin's final record was one win against five losses. The consistent scorers on the team were almost all seniors. Outdoor track co-captain Bob Collazzo in the 1000 and Juan Evereteze in the 600 took care of the middle distances. In the 50 yd. dash, senior Barton Conrad and junior Errold Corbin combined for a double threat. Captain Bob Tegan and Alfred Steverson took care of the 300. In the mile, were seniors Joe MacDonald and manager John O'Connor. Raymond McCann and Kevin Crane were always strong in the two mile. Sidelined for the season and sorely missed was 600 yarder Jim Maloney. In the high jump, Latin could depend on Joe Michalski to pick up valuable points. Next year, Coach McDivitt should have a better team to work with.

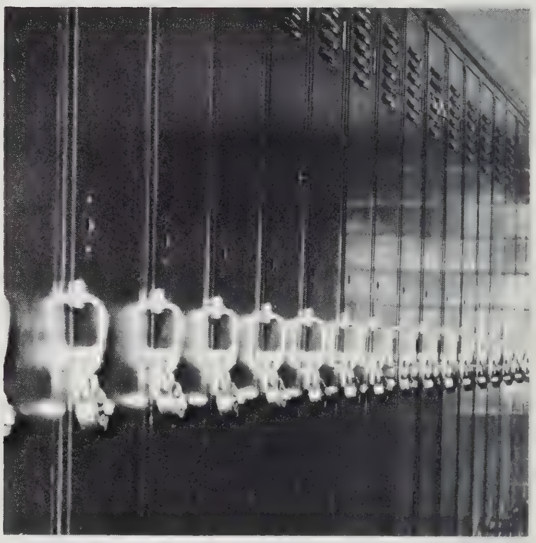
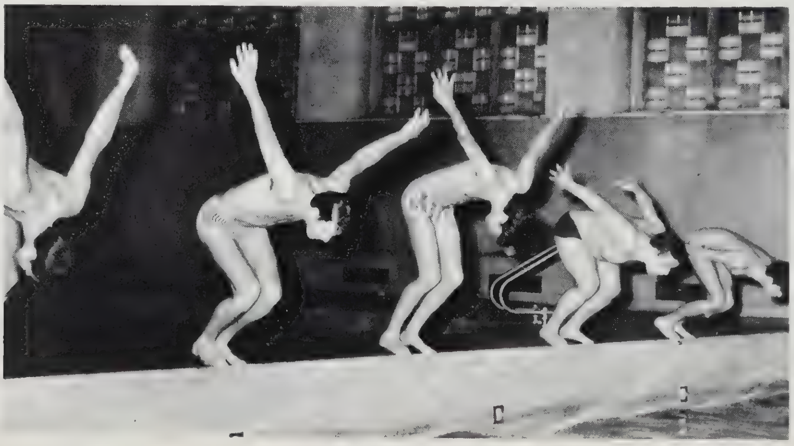
What do you mean you forgot your briefs?!!

And now my dear students . . .

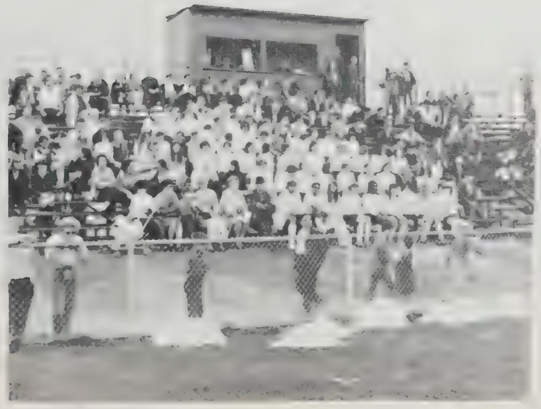
Now if Dan will just get his hand out of the butter . . .



Which locker has the bomb?



SUPERDUCKS



Where did you get such a funny name?

GET OFF THAT LOUSY GROUND!!!

And how did you get out of the study hall?

When is that bell going to ring?

I had more room in the gym.

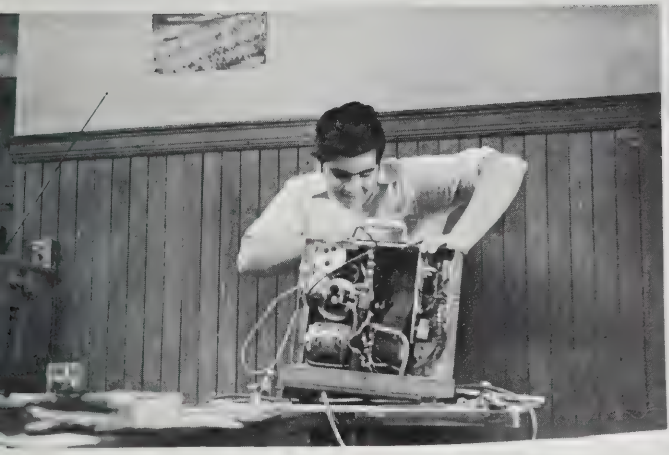
Wanna hear a good Italian joke?



EDITOR'S NOTE

The 1969 CANTAB represents a feeling, a mood. As we look back in retrospect to our four years at Cambridge High and Latin School, we find that we as individuals have changed . . . emotionally, spiritually, and physically. It is these changes in the self that we have tried to recreate and convey in the spirit of our publication. Not only have we produced a factual history and record, but the 1969 CANTAB strives to create involvement of the student with himself, his friends and his environment.

Although the 1969 CANTAB is far from the best high school yearbook, I can only say that I did my best to make it what it is. Many hours of work, both in school, after school in the yearbook office, and at home, were required to prepare it . . . All the members of the staff tried to use their imaginations to the fullest to create new ideas.

In order to achieve our final goal, I had to call upon numerous people for assistance; many to whom I am deeply indebted. If I tried to mention all of the students who were so very helpful, I am sure that I would omit someone. I do want to thank Mrs. Rita Ritterbush for all her help with the art work. Few yearbooks have all original art work and we were fortunate in having skillful artists in our own class to make ours one of the few. Mrs. Ritterbush spent many hours with our own artists in preparing it. Miss Ruth Dunphy and her typing class had the tedious chore of preparing a good deal of the layout. Mr. Arthur Lipkin was of invaluable help serving as our grammatical advisor. Our faculty advisor, Mr. Jerome Higgins, was always there to help us and give us his opinion, but was kind enough to let us make our own decisions.

Finally, I would like to extend my deepest appreciation to Mr. Frank Frisoli, not only for his help with the yearbook, but for being a sincere friend to all Seniors. Many of us do not realize the extra work and the hidden favors that Mr. Frisoli did for us while he was Assistant Headmaster. This is Mr. Frisoli's last year in C.H.L.S. Next year he will be Assistant Superintendent of Schools in charge of secondary-school education and I am sure that he will be missed by his students and colleagues who will then realize the true affection he felt toward Cambridge Latin, its faculty, and its students.

EPILOGUE

Joyful and nostalgic, June 2, 1969 terminates our high school career. We meet this day with solace and yet with confidence as we go forth as but yearlings into the world. Hopefully shall we all succeed in our endeavors and treasure all the memories of our four somewhat toilsome, yet somewhat cheerful years spent in pursuit of our high school educations.
